REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN! 2019 Administrative Professionals Conference

Plan to join us for the Indiana Hospital Association's 47th Annual Administrative Professionals Conference, Friday, April 26 in downtown Indianapolis.

The day will feature Pinterest's first Executive Assistant Michelle Parise. Michelle has worked as an Administrative Professional supporting CEOs in the fields of Commercial Real Estate, Venture Capital and Technology. She's been sought out as a leader in the administrative field for her exceptional skills and speaks regularly at industry conferences. While working at Pinterest, she built a best-in-class administrative team of fourteen EAs and centralized the administrative function, becoming the first Team Manager.

We have partnered with Michelle to create a custom, interactive workshop that will address several of the most requested topics, based on our recent post-event surveys.

Closing out the day with a little inspiration and humor are HGTV sensations and fellow Hoosiers, the stars of the hit show "Good Bones" who will talk about their journey and success in a male-dominated industry.
