TAKE A STAND
No more violence to health care workers

Violence against health care workers is grossly underreported
Health care workers think that violence is “part of the job” and often believe their assailants are not responsible for their actions due to conditions affecting their mental state.

70% violent incidents are not reported by nurses

Violence comes in many forms
- Biting
- Beating
- Choking
- Harassing
- Intimidating
- Kicking
- Killing
- Name calling
- Pinching
- Pushing
- Punching
- Scratching
- Shoving
- Spitting
- Stalking
- Stabbing
- Threatening
- Yelling

When violence occurs...
REPORT IT!
Notify leadership, security, and, if needed, law enforcement

YOUR HOSPITAL SUPPORTS YOU!