

POPULATION HEALTH in Indiana

Population Health Showcase Webinar Series

As part of a statewide effort to coordinate population health activities and encourage meaningful dialogue, IHA's Population Health Task Force is hosting a series of 60-minute webinars. Member feedback is an integral part of creating and implementing sustainable population health efforts, and IHA would like to thank members for the comments and concerns expressed so far.

Thanks to your input, IHA's Population Health Task Force has identified the following topics as areas for future focus and improvement:

- Care coordination and case management
- Role of, and challenges to, public health efforts
- Community health leadership and coalitions
- Health education, behavior change and patient engagement
- Behavioral health leadership
- Payment reform

The webinars are open to all members, and we hope you will join us in our collective mission to promote population health activities, share information and collaborate toward a healthier Indiana.

Population Health Showcase Webinars
JULY 27 2 - 3 P.M. ET	Featuring: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Indiana University Health • Deaconess Health System Register: http://bit.ly/2qFumda
AUGUST 22 2 - 3 P.M. ET	Featuring: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Parkview Health's clinical integration efforts • CarDon & Associates' community reintegration services Register: http://bit.ly/2sYPsXN
OCTOBER 19 2 - 3 P.M. ET	Featuring: Columbus Regional Health and Schneck Medical Center and the innovative work they are doing to improve health of their communities Register: http://bit.ly/2tIXYr9
NOVEMBER 16 2 - 3 P.M. ET	Featuring: Community Hospital East and Hancock Regional Hospital showcasing their Community Health Improvement Plan Register: http://bit.ly/2rzac5i

POPULATION HEALTH in Indiana

Population Health Task Force Meeting

September 12 // 1-4 P.M. ET

Sidney & Louis Eskenazi Hospital | 720 Eskenazi Avenue | Indianapolis, Indiana, 46202

Dr. Lisa Harris, CEO of Eskenazi Health, will be presenting alongside Dr. Charles Miramonti a detail of the innovative work that has occurred at Eskenazi Health in regards to population health. Dr. Harris will deliver a presentation on reinventing health care at her organization. Dr. Miramonti will follow Dr. Harris and discuss taking the current delivery model into the home and community. There will be time allotted for a tour of the key features of Eskenazi Health as well as time scheduled for networking.

Register online at: <http://bit.ly/2sLRPxr>

Featured Speakers

Lisa E. Harris, M.D., CEO Dedicating her career to improving health care for vulnerable and underserved populations, Lisa E. Harris, M.D., has practiced medicine for 30 years at nationally recognized Eskenazi Health. Today, Dr. Harris serves as Eskenazi Health's chief executive officer, leading one of America's essential health care systems that also serves as a vital training ground for the Indiana University School of Medicine. In addition to her leadership role at Eskenazi Health, Dr. Harris remains actively engaged in patient care, research and teaching. Long before national health care reform took shape in America, Dr. Harris concentrated Eskenazi Health's resources on prevention, health promotion and primary care, asserting that the greatest opportunity to improve the health and vitality of a community is to keep people well in the first place.

Charlie Miramonti, M.D. Board certified in emergency medicine, Charles Miramonti, M.D., serves as chief of Indianapolis Emergency Medical Services (EMS) and chief of care integration at Eskenazi Health. In these roles, Dr. Miramonti provides senior leadership for care management, tying together prehospital care, transitional care, mobile health services and population health management to help create an efficient and effective integrated model of care across the delivery system. Dr. Miramonti has practiced at Eskenazi Health for more than 15 years and has served in numerous leadership capacities.